

Employment law

Coming out of lockdown

Donna Reynolds · May 6th 2021

Virtual Seminar

PURSUE  EXCELLENCE

Land Registration: A risk-based approach

At some point, the Scottish Government is going to give the green light for businesses and venues to re-open and employers who shut down or reduced operations will be focussing their attention on their staff requirements and how to reopen their workplaces. It's unlikely that this will be a smooth process; the end of the furlough scheme and a realisation that, in some instances, work can be undertaken by fewer employers, will see the loss of jobs. In addition, some employees are going to feel nervous about returning to the workplace while others will prefer, for a variety of reasons, to continue to work from home, if even for part of the working week. Employers will need to tackle issues including how to:

- Make their workplaces covid-19 secure
- Deal with employees who can't or won't return to the work
- Deal with changes to terms and conditions of employment
- Tackle redundancies in the workplace

This seminar will provide practical guidance for solicitors on how to help clients navigate through these complex issues, and avoid the many risks which will arise during these extremely turbulent times.

Book Now →

At a glance

£180+VAT; 2hrs CPD

2–4pm

May 6th

Virtual Seminar

Materials

Once delegates book the event, you will receive confirmation of your attendance, and a follow-up reminder email shortly before the event.

At the event, delegates will receive a comprehensive handbook covering issues raised, including any presentation material. The handbook will be provided hard copy, and these materials will be available to purchase after the event for those unable to attend.

The event begins at 2pm. Delegate registration is open from 1:30pm

Employment law

Coming out of lockdown

Donna Reynolds · May 6th 2021

Virtual Seminar

PURSUE  EXCELLENCE

The Speakers

Donna Reynolds

Donna Reynolds has specialised in employment law for 15 years and regularly appears in the employment tribunals for both employers and employees. Donna gives advice in relation to a wide variety of contentious and non-contentious employment issues with a particular focus on discrimination and a keen interest in disability, pregnancy and maternity, and sex discrimination and discrimination in partnerships. She participates regularly in employment law seminars and training events on all aspects of employment law for clients and HR professionals and is regularly published in the Scotsman and other publications.

The venue

Due to Government guidelines and COVID-19, CCPD will be delivering its seminars online, available on desktop and mobile, to ensure that our customers continue to receive the high-quality training they've come to expect.

Please get in touch if you have any questions, and we look forward to welcoming you in person before long.

Unable to attend?

If your diary precludes attendance at the event, the course materials will be available for purchase. Please contact us for more information.

CCPD Training

www.ccpdtraining.co.uk

info@ccpdtraining.co.uk

0141 314 3682