Recent Developments in Professional Negligence

Professional negligence is a complex and often highly emotive area of law, with the potential for numerous twists and pitfalls. With each passing case, the intricacies of this area of law become ever more important, and the avenues for pursuit and appeal grow ever more complex. This seminar will bring you up to date with developments in professional negligence, including comprehensive walk-throughs of recent cases on time bar and causation of loss, and the available routes to pursue claims.

Our speaker, Tim Edward, of Maclay Murray & Spens, has years of experience of large-scale commercial litigations, as well as leading the firm's professional indemnity insurance unit, dealing with all types of professional negligence claims. With his formidable expertise, he will clarify and illuminate the issues in what promises to be a fascinating and engaging seminar. The topics covered will include:

- Claim or Complaint to Professional Body? Mediation, arbitration or litigation?
- Limitation of Liability
- Standard of Care
- Prescription – the legacy of Morison v ICL Plastics
- Causation and Quantification of Loss – the application of SAAMCO; the - impact of contributory negligence/failure to mitigate loss
