

Family Law

Contact Disputes/Contempt of Court and The Relocation of children

Tom Quail · August 23rd 2022 · Virtual Seminar

PURSUE  EXCELLENCE

Contact Disputes/Contempt of Court and The Relocation of children

Failure to comply with court orders for contact or residence has in some cases led to prison sentences being imposed on parents for contempt of court. It is therefore important to understand the background of these cases and how these situations can be managed by Family Law Solicitors.

Another equally contentious area within family law relates to relocation of children which is an issue which can often lead to prolonged acrimonious disputes which are often litigated.

This seminar will look at both areas and provide practical guidance in relation to the following topics:

- Consequences of non-compliance with a court order.
- The standard of contempt of court.
- The evidence required to establish contempt.
- Likely penalties and available remedies.
- Legal principles of relocation of children.
- Relevant case law relating to relocation.
- How to ensure continuing contact with non- resident parent.
- Arguments likely to be successful or unsuccessful.

In addition to the content covered you will also be provided with detailed written notes including a style for a Minute for Contempt proceeding.

Book Now →

At a glance
£180+VAT; 3hrs CPD
2–5pm
August 23rd
Virtual Seminar

Materials

Once delegates book the event, you will receive confirmation of your attendance, and a follow-up reminder email shortly before the event.

At the event, delegates will receive a comprehensive handbook covering issues raised, including any presentation material. The handbook will be provided hard copy, and these materials will be available to purchase after the event for those unable to attend.

The event begins at 2pm. Delegate registration is open from 1:30pm

Family Law

Contact Disputes/Contempt of Court and The Relocation of children

Tom Quail · August 23rd · Virtual Seminar

PURSUE  EXCELLENCE

The Speakers

Tom Quail

Tom Quail is Head of the Family Law Group at Wright Johnston and Mackenzie and is a Family Law Expert who has been involved in Family Law at a high level for over 20 years. Tom is accredited as a specialist in family law, a trained Mediator and a Solicitor Advocate.

Tom has spoken at Family Law Conferences over the past 10 years to experienced family lawyers and has had articles published in law journals. Most recently, Tom had an article published this month in the Journal on the Scottish Law Commission is “Discussion paper on Cohabitation” and also this month had an article published on the online Journal for advice to separating couples in the face of COVID-19 which was co-written with a Clinical Psychologist.

The venue

Due to Government guidelines and COVID-19, CCPD will be delivering its seminars online, available on desktop and mobile, to ensure that our customers continue to receive the high-quality training they've come to expect.

Please get in touch if you have any questions, and we look forward to welcoming you in person before long.

Unable to attend?

If your diary precludes attendance at the event, the course materials will be available for purchase. Please contact us for more information.

CCPD Training

www.ccpdtraining.co.uk

info@ccpdtraining.co.uk 0141 314 3682